The returns to be found in another column, of the election yesterday, disclose the fact which we had predicted, and which every man worth says:

Now, we make this allusion in consequence of the sun to be appropriated for streets. Let the Aldermen consider well what they vote; let them adhere to the appropriation. Last year there was a little over $55,000 appropriated; but there was a little over $55,000 appropriated; but there was a little over $55,000 appropriated; but there was over $50,000 expended. How did that there was over $50,000 expended. There has been a strong speculative feeling, besides a demand for wheat for St. Louis mil-lers, who have sold largely for future delivery. Yesterday three canal bouts were being founded with Standard Spring, which go to St. Louis. Corn has advanced 163c within the week. Oats have also been in better request. Eye and barley unchanged.

Later from the Saut River.

(From the Detroit Free Free, 1st.)

The propolier Governor Cusbman passed down yesterday morning at an early hour. She left the Detour and the Saut River on Thursday evening. The steamers Northern Light, Iron City and Lady Eigh were at the Detour waiting for the ice to break up. The North Star was fast in the ice aix miles above. The Cushman reports the ice to be about eighteen inches thick in the river and quite firm. There was no propect that boats would be able to get through for a week or ten days yet. The weather was clear and cold, and the woods were full of snow. The Cushman brought down a load of ice for Cisveland and amarket. She towed out of the river, with loads of ice, the schooners C. H. Winslow, Fortune, George Worthington and Correspondent, and the brig Gen. Worth. They will be down in a day or two. The Cushman went on down to Cleveland yeasterday morning.

Hail Storms.

We hear that a terrible hail-storm visited the vicinity of Whitchall, Greene County, on last Tuesday. Some of the hail stones were larger than pigeons eggs, and fell with great force. On the same day we are informed that a similar storm visited Shelbyville. The hail were as large as prairie hen's eggs, and dil great damage to windows. At Mattoon there was also a lively hail storm on the same day.—State Journal.

And while speaking of that matter, it will not be out of place here to quote from Mayor Haines' inaugural the following statement respecting the debt which Wettworth transmitted to his successor and the falsehood with which it was accompanied:

CARLIESS EMPLOYERS.—Capt. Moore, of the Merchants Police, informs us that there have been four instances of goods left hanging night in front of stores. Twenty-two stores and banks were found with their doors left open. The Journal of yesterday says: "The Illinois Central Railroad yesterday shipped six teen hunder bushels of seed wheat to Onarga a station in Iroquois County, for distribution among the farmers of that section.

No. 344 A.B. III.—A well insure the Chicago, offered in miles northwest of Chicago, offered in of these wonderful machines—the ten cylinder printing press.

We handed over the inquiry addressed to us by the London Times to Mr. Joseph Elliott, the printing auperintendent of this establishment, for him to answer in detail. The following are the inquiries, with his answers appended, in the regular order of succession in which they are propounded, together with other information, which may be interesting to the general reader. Question—How many printing machines have you for your newspaper work, and what are they, and how long have they been in use?

Answer—Three printing machines of the rotary patent—two of them being of ten cylinders each, and the third of six cylinders. The six cylinder press has been in use between aix and seven years; the ten cylinders about two years. Question—Want number of revolutions of the main cylinder do you regularly run the ten cylinder machines per minute, and how much faster have you at times run them?

Answer—The regular speed at which they are propelled is from twenty-sight to thirty fevolutions of minute—occasionally as high as thirty-three. ARPENTER STREET .- 100 ft. hree.

Question—What is the average number of im-reasions per hour, including stoppages?

Answer—About fifteen thousand.

Question—What have been the breakages and what have been the delays consequent or WANTED TO EXCHANGE A RO DETEAD, Answer—We have had but few, and none slay the publication of the paper. We had do throw off one of the cylinders two Consisting of a two-story Miswankes brick House, so modifying, were and greene, allowed the Towns in Wiscom pass of those beautiful and heatiby Lake Towns in Wiscom and the Misses of the Lake Also, weaked to sell or exchange for thy property, WISCOMSIN FARMING AND PINE LANDS, EFF for particulars address post office box 1000, just use ree times from slight accidents to tape whee the end of the cylinder, and from a breaka on the end of the eplinder, and from a breakage of a finger cam.

Question—Do you find more fingers broken on the ten eylinders, in proportion to the number of cylinders, than in a four or six cylinder? Answer—No.

Question—About how often do fingers or grippers break on your ten cylinder machine?

Answer—We have had very few broken since the presses were put in operation, and not one for the last three months.

Question—Have you any more difficulty with composition roflers on the ten cylinder than on the four or six cylinder?

Answer—We have had less difficulty, and our rollers last longer, some of the distributing J. S. Answer—The tapes, which contract and expand from the action of the weather. They assessine break, and occasionally run off the pulleys when too much expanded, candangering the machine.

The London Times seems to be peculiarly unfortunate with their ten cylinder presses. All that have been manufactured in this country have worked admirably so far as we have been alle to ascertain, and no cause is assigned by those making the above inquiries for the apparent failure of the machines in England. But there must be a deficiency somewhere, and the fault seems to be in the want of skill in English machine shops, as the same drawings upon which the New York Heads presses were constructed were sent over to England. A skillful mechanic, who understood the manufacture and workingoperation of these presses in America, was sent over with the d'awings to Machinery, Mardware, &c. TUL. VON HOEVEL & CO. The class system is as distinctly marked in English workshops as in society at large in that country, with grades more numerous, and at the root of all lies the evil, that while every one is compelled to labor but few are allowed to think; and to this may in a great measure, be ascribed the failure of these presses for the London Times. When an accident occurred there could be no exchange of ideas between the workmen, and the one or two individuals at the head of the concern had so intelligence sufficient of themselves to comprehend the difficulty. Werkly Review.—During the past week, the weather has been all that agriculturists could desire. The news from the interior with regard to the coming crops are cheering. The winter wheat in Illinois is coming foward rapidly, and we hear of several places where the spring wheat is some inches above the ground. Farmers throughout the State are preparing their ground for the core.
